

Leahurst Small Animal Post Mortem Laboratory Refurbishment

This project comprised of the refurbishment of the small animal post-mortem laboratory located at the University of Liverpool's Leahurst campus.

The development at The School of Veterinary Science's is located in rural Cheshire, approximately 20 miles south of Liverpool.

As part of the works, the existing post-mortem room has undergone a substantial renovation. Associated laboratory facilities for histology sample preparation and electron microscopy and additional office space has completed the pathology accommodation meaning all pathology activity can now take place on one site. All works took place within a secure, live environment.

Key Aspects

- ✓ Work took place in secure and live environment
- ✓ Careful removal of existing ceramic washbasins
- ✓ Access was maintained at all times to occupied areas during the works
